Re: Anibal Rodriguez, et al., v. Google LLC
Case No. 3:20-cv-04688-RS

Counselors:

Attached as Appendix A are the Android Adid's (i.e., their GAIDs under the Google Ads services) values you requested on October 27, 2021, for named Plaintiffs with Android devices to permit Google to locate Plaintiffs' app instance identifiers and retrieve their associated GA for Firebase app measurement logs. We are designating them as confidential.

We provide these values in furtherance of ongoing discovery disputes, but reserve all objections to your methodology and disagree that you do not have other ways to locate Plaintiffs' data and identifier values with previously produced information and Google's plethora of tools, logs, and raw data stored.

Please also accompany the production with an explanation of what sources and logs you searched, and how you searched them. As part of that, please identify all data sources and logs where these values and their variants could be stored.

Thank you,

Ryan J. McGee
